

Also on Web!

Resonance - journal of science education - Microsoft Internet Explorer

File Edit View Favorites Tools Help

Back Forward Stop Refresh Home Search Favorites History Mail Print Edit Discuss

Address <http://www.ias.ac.in/resonance> Go

Search

go

About Resonance

Editorial Board

Guidelines

Subscribe

Current Issue

Back Issues

Resonance

journal of science education

'Resonance' is a journal of science education, published monthly since January 1996 by the Indian Academy of Sciences, Bangalore, India.

It is primarily directed to students and teachers at the undergraduate level, though some material beyond this range is also included.

Each issue contains articles on physics, chemistry, biology, mathematics and computer science.

The format is attractive and easy to read, with pictures, illustrations, marginal notes, boxes and space for comments provided.

The articles are of various types: individual general articles, series made up of several parts, concise article-in-boxes, classroom pieces, Nature watch pieces, research news, book reviews; and Information and Announcements useful to students and teachers.

Can you afford to miss such a journal? Subscribe Today!
Click here for Subscription Form.

Indian Academy of Sciences

resonanc@ias.ernet.in <http://www.ias.ac.in>

This page was last modified: 07/26/2001 15:05:44

Done

Full text of articles from January 2001 available on the web
<http://www.ias.ac.in/resonance>; <http://www.iisc.ernet.in/academy/resonance>