

Flowering Trees

Amherstia nobilis (Tree of Heaven) is a small evergreen tree that has been cultivated in India in places with humid warm climate. It bears beautiful hanging candelabra-like graceful sprays of red and yellow flowers twice in a year (January-April; July-October). It is rated as the foremost among the most beautiful trees in the world. Amherstia is a prized plant in parks, gardens and sacred places.