

GENERAL ARTICLES

969 Michaelis and Menten at 100: Still Going Strong

Binny J Cherayil

996 Integration and Polar Coordinates

S Kesavan

1004 A Feast of Flowers

Dipanjan Ghosh

1015 Taking Light For a Walk

Anita R Warriar and C Vijayan

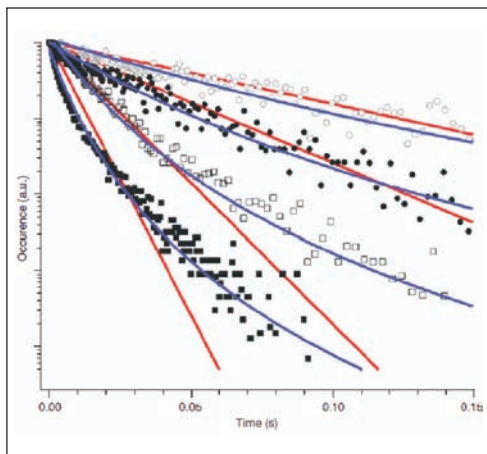

SERIES ARTICLES

1032 Circadian Rhythms

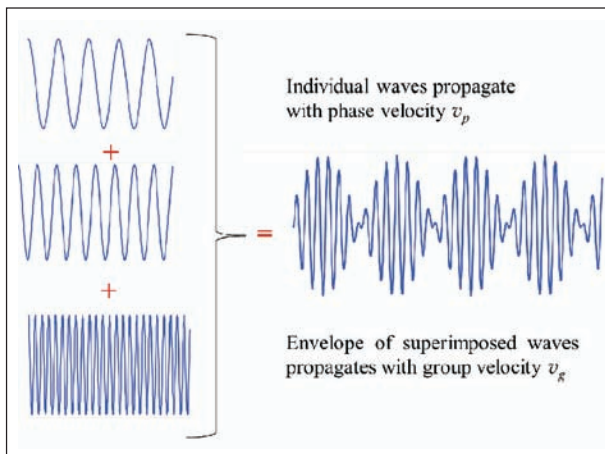

Circadian Timing Systems: How are they Organized?

Koustubh M Vaze and Vijay Kumar Sharma

969

1015

1004

DEPARTMENTS

Editorial	961
K L Sebastian
Article-in-a-Box	963
Leonor Michaelis and Maud Leonora Menten: Celebrating 100 years of the Michaelis–Menten Equation
Dipshikha Chakravorty

Science Smiles	968
Ayan Guha

Information & Announcements

Prize for Innovation in Alternative Fuels for Transportation, 2013 1051

Nobel Prize 2013 1052

Science Academies' Summer Research Fellowship Programme for Students and Teachers – 2014 1053

Front Cover

Modern fluorescence techniques allow the catalytic activity of single immobilized enzymes to be observed in real time. Adapted from Figure 2 of article on page 969.

Back Cover

Leonor Michaelis (1875–1949)
Maud Leonora Menten (1879–1960)
(Illustration: Subhankar Biswas)

