March of Intellect—Coloured etching by W. Heath using the pseudonym Paul Pry (1829). The image offers a futuristic vision: the advance of technology leads to rapid transport, sophisticated tastes among the masses, mechanization, and extravagant building projects. Source: Wikipedia